Frequently Asked Questions about Topical Prize Results

Who sponsors Topical Prizes?

A variety of organizations and individuals sponsor Topical Prizes based on their interests and the annual History Day theme.

How are Topical Prizes judged?

Topical Prize results are separate from the category results and judging that took place at State History Day. Students nominated their own entry for up to three prizes and a separate panel of judges review materials submitted in advance to select winners. Prizes are evaluated on the fit within the prize criteria and the historical quality of the entry.

Who are the Topical Prize judges?

Sponsoring organizations generally provide the judges for Topical Prizes. If a sponsoring organization is unable to provide judges, Minnesota History Day recruits judges from the general judge pool who are interested in judging Topical Prizes. All Topical Prize judges receive training on their role.

Will I get comments from the Topical Prize judges?

No. Topical Prize judges do not provide written feedback on the entries that they view.

How do I redeem my prize?

Cash prizes will require that the students provide a Social Security number by completing a W9 form and returning it to the State History Day office. This information is kept confidential at the Minnesota Historical Society. Students will not receive awards until their forms are returned. You will be contacted in the week following the contest via the email address you used to register for State History Day.

How are prizes split among group entries?

Only one group member needs to return a W9 and the check will be issued to that individual. It is their responsibility to split the award among any group members.

When will I get my prize?

From the date we receive your W9 form, it takes 30 days to process the check and be mailed out to you.

Who do I contact with questions?

For the 2025 State Contest, contact Samantha.Papas@mnhs.org with any questions.
